

What is bornlearning academy?

The United Way bornlearning academy is a series of six free workshops that provide your family with tools and resources to turn everyday activities into learning moments for your children ages 0-5. The workshops are at local schools, with food and childcare provided.

How it works:

DINNER

families who attend the academy will receive a FREE dinner

WORKSHOP

activities that you can enjoy with your children that promote early learning

GIVEAWAYS

families can enter to win door prizes and other FREE items every night

Why it's important:

Children are constantly learning, right from birth. Solid research proves that parents and other caregivers are the first teachers and most important link to getting kids ready for school. Born Learning Academies give parents and caregivers tools to promote early learning while deepening relationships with school staff and other families.
